F. ANTONIVS MORTARIVS BRIXIENSIS.

SI ea est rebus cunctis insita ius atq; ratio, vt pro viribus suis ingrati animi notam effugere nitantur; ager enim excultus fructus reddit vberrimos, animantia rationis vsu expertia, omni feritate expulsa, eos, à quibus beneficia acceperint, summopere venerari, ac obseruare consueuerunt; quã turpe igitur, quam indignum, quam à ratione alienum esset, si ego ingrati animi labe inficì, ac commaculari paterer. Horret id sane animus meus. Non immemor itaque qualia in me contuleris beneficia; Tu enim Mediolanum me adduxisti, adductum benigne suscepisti, susceptum fouisti. Tu mihi veluti pater, tu tutor, tu custos, tu studiorum meorum Musicalium auctor, tu mihi alter veluti Mœcenas. Consentaneum propterea rationi esse censeo laborum meorum fructus veluti ab arbore a te exculta tribuendos, tibique tanquã tuos esse dicandos. Suscipe ergo Psalmos hosce Dauidicos, nec non augustissimę, ac Deiparę Virginis, cuius tu studiosissimus existis canticum, & qua soles hilari, letaque fronte, grati animi ergo accipe. Exiguum sane munus, at animum quæso intuere meum, qui si plura posset plura tribueret. Vale. Dat. Mediolani iiij. Kal. Ianuarij. M D XCIX.
